ATIS: Automatic Terminal Information Service - AeroSavvy

In early 1964, the FAA began testing a service to give pilots timely airport information without burdening air traffic controllers. Chicago, Van Nuys, New York, and San Francisco/Oakland were the first airports to test the new system called ATIS – Automatic Terminal Information Service. The idea was simple.

Understanding ATIS | VATSIM.net

Automatic terminal information service, or ATIS, is a continuous broadcast of recorded aeronautical information in busier terminal areas, i.e. airports and their immediate surroundings. ATIS broadcasts contain essential information, such as current weather information, active runways, available approaches, and any other information required by the pilots, such as important NOTAMS.
