WHAT IT IS. • It is a principled framework out of which your players can play. It is a system of 2 man Read and Reactions, that can be drilled to the point of habit. These 2 man habits are not just a random collection of good 2 man games. The Read and React system ties these 2 man reads into a seamless 5 man offense that can be adjusted to any set, formation, type of player, or style of play.

Read and React Offense (UPDATED) - Teach Hoops

See Rick Torbett's Betterbasketball Read and React Zone Offense. We modify the man-to-man Read and React offense for attacking zones. All the basic Read and React rules apply, with the following modifications: Pass and Cut - becomes "hook and look (and hold)". Our perimeter passer cuts, but instead of a basket cut, makes a button-hook cut into a seam or gap in the zone.

Read and React Offense - Complete Coaching Guide (20 Layers)

The Read & React Offense was developed by Coach Rick Torbett. He created an offense made up of many layers based around players being able to read the action of their teammates and react accordingly. It is a system of two-player reads that ties into a seamless five-player offense.

20 Layers of the Read & React Offense - giveandgobasketball

Read & React is a completely unique offensive system that goes beyond teaching your team basic offensive plays. An underlying framework teaches your players the strategy behind an offense, Read & React gives them the freedom to play by principle instead of just by play.

Notes by Scott Bullock Rick Torbett The Read & React Offense

The Read and React offense was developed by coach Rick Torbett (BetterBasketball.com). Below is a review of this offense, and some of my thoughts about it after having used it for a few years (varsity boys). This is by no means complete, but hopefully gives you an idea of what it's about.

READ AND REACT OFFENSE - FIP

The Read and React offense is keyed off of what the ball handler does. The ball handler is clearly the initiator and the rest of the players are reactors. The players without the ball are not just free to react as in a motion offense. They have a single trained response for each specific action of the ball handler.

“Read and React” Offence is not a set or structured offence. Instead it is a framework that relies upon “reads and reactions” in a 2 player context, which are combined into a seamless framework for 5 players. Teaching the offence requires “drilling” the “reads and reactions” into the 2 player context so that they become habits.
